

To those who Wonder

"They're off, Granddad. Gosh, what a power"

"Yes Boy, those beautifull "B17s" with their 5000 horse power will change the face of the earth."

"But why, Granddad, what are they doing?"

"They smash a way for our troops. They pave the road to victory. It's the power of modern machines which will win the war for our fighting men."

"But, Granddad, what is Daddy doing over there and Uncle Frankie and all the others serving in the infantry? Why can't they just march on to Berlin?"

You see, Boy, it won't be more than a years time and we'll have enough of those "Flying Forts" to darken the sky over Europe. Then it will be machines and not men like your Dad and Uncle Frankie who will decide the war!"

"But Granddad, will father and Uncle Frankie still be alive then? These forts have been taking off every day for years and look how many of the fellows at school have lost their Daddys. Granddad, do you honestly think that these machines will win the war for us?"
